Over 30 Years of “Working While it’s Day”

Hello from the Frontline!

Recently I had another birthday (yep, I’m finally 30 years old!). Throughout the day as I received hundreds of best wishes through FaceBook, text messages, and emails, I realized once again the incredible number of wonderful, amazing, caring friends and partners God has surrounded me and my wife, family, and ministry with.

You may not have been one of those who chimed in on that day, but, you are one of “them.” You are one of those who my wife and I thank God for each day; our partners in the work that the Lord has entrusted to us and those who serve here at Frontline. We know, after many years of experience, that we could never do what we do alone. I agree with the premise of that great brother John C. Maxwell, who has for a long time declared that no one has ever accomplished anything great alone.

If you review the bottom of the page you will see four areas in which Frontline continues to “reach and help people find their way back to God”. Each of these “areas” are deeply evangelistic at heart. In our church planting we see people each week hearing of the amazing grace of God through Jesus Christ, and learning more of what the early church called “the Way.” In our school, we see God touching the lives of our staff, as well as the students and their families. In our compassionate programs we see God reaching and helping people to understand that He sees them, and cares about their problems and needs. And in our social enterprise initiatives, people are experiencing the God who cares about their work.

My wife and I are privileged and blessed. Those who serve here feel the same way; each day we are all reminded to be grateful to God for His call upon our lives, and of our many partners who make the journey possible. So, thank you again for being a partner in ministry with us!
