Hello from the Frontline!

In April my wife and I flew to the USA in order to do "friend-raising." That is, visiting people in a variety of contexts, and sharing our hearts, what Frontline is and does, and presenting opportunity to be involved financially or otherwise. Over the next three months we "bounced around" quite a bit, living mostly out of our suitcases as we traveled and presented the work of Frontline. We ministered and presented in churches, home gatherings, countless personal meetings, at two specially arranged fund-raising banquets, and even in a prison service in Illinois.

This "bouncing around" is always hard work; exhausting at time. But it's also enjoyable for Rowena and I to see friends, reinforce existing partnerships, and to develop new relationships for the mission of "reaching and helping people find their way back to God."

Besides reconnecting and establishing new partnerships, we were able to raise funds for our main project, which is the moving and expansion of our ministry school Frontline Christian Academy (FCA). In summary we were able to raise nearly $150,000 in cash and pledges toward the goal of our these needed classrooms. Though we still have significant financial hurdles to cross before we can open doors at the new location, we are encouraged by God's goodness and the generosity of our partners.

We're also proud to report God has moved on the hearts of those we are purchasing the new property from. Just yesterday we had a joyful gathering where Rhoda Lynn (our daughter and FCA School Director) explained some "great news" to our staff. Though we are still short on the entire purchase amount of the property, the owners called and said "We don't care. We are giving you the title of the land so you can start developing the new school." Praise God!

So, we are very thankful to both our financial partners and our prayer partners! We have been praying for favor, and have asked many of you to pray with us. And God is doing great things! We continue to ask for your prayer support as we move forward in planing and putting up our new school; a school that will serve not only the general public, but abandoned and abused children from our childcare program, and children from impoverished communities... for many years to come! Thank you again for partnering with Frontline! We love, appreciate, and pray for you daily!
